TRANSPORT FLOORING

VOYAGER Maritime

Background & Introduction

The Voyager Maritime range of heavy commercial Luxury Vinyl Tiles is specifically designed for the interiors of cruise ships, ferries and commercial vehicles. The marine LVT range sits in a portfolio of 'Voyager' transport flooring that includes homogeneous and safety collections.

The international marine flooring market has always been heavily associated with the traditional opulence and glamour of cruise ships, but a shift in trends has created a demand for sleek contemporary finishes and modern materials as the cruise liner industry evolves. These factors have led Polyflor to relaunch the Voyager Maritime collection of LVT flooring, to support the demands from interior designers and specifiers looking for high quality, durable and attractive flooring with options for both classic and modern decors.

The collection includes a range of authentic wood, concrete and stone effect designs, with the addition of two contemporary large parquets. The two parquets are also available as full plank designs, providing even more choice. We have invested in new shadecards to promote the range and its technical specification, including R10 slip resistance and a PU surface treatment.
